

Mill Bay Boardwalk Snorkel

The Mill Bay Boardwalk is a 350m long walk way along one side of the Wagonga Inlet in Narooma, New South Wales. There is plenty of life in the water below the boardwalk including seals and huge stingrays.

LOCATION

Wagonga Inlet
Narooma, New South Wales

DEPTH

1-2 Meters

TEMP

12-14°

FEATURE

DIFFICULTY

Advanced - Strong tidal movement

VISIBILITY

Visibility is 3-5 meters

GETTING THERE

Narooma is on the south coast of New South Wales, 355km south of Sydney. The township straddles the inlet and you can't miss the wooden boardwalk that follows the northern bank of the bay.

LOOK FOR

- Stingrays
- Seals
- Tiny Fish

BEST TIME TO SNORKEL

The best way to snorkel along the boardwalk is to do it with the tide so check which way it is running before you start. Whether the tide is going in or out will also determine which end you start..

The tidal current can be quite strong so if you can snorkel on the turn of the tide, you won't be swept along quite so fast.
